

Sinclair Broadcasting's outrageous decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation and arrogant disregard of the principles of democracy!

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge! They are obligated by law to serve the public interest. When these large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for their bottom line [or their political bias] and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
